WHY WAS RICE EXILED?

Senate Wants Secretary of War to Make an Explanation.

TELLER'S RESOLUTION WAS ADOPTED

Ship Subsidy Bill Switched In And Out Again — Words "And Vice President" Cut Out Of Inauguration Resolution — The House.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The senate met at 11 o'clock. A bill authorizing the Mount Carmel Development company to draw water from the Wabash river at Grand Rapids, Ills., was passed.

Mr. Chandler (N. H.) presented the credentials of his successor, Henry E. Burnham.

The chair appointed Messrs. Hanna, Spooner and Jones (Ark.) members of the joint committee on inauguration, and Messrs. Chandler and Caffery as tellers of the vote for president and vice president when the electoral vote is counted.

Mr. Teller called up and spoke upon his resolution calling upon the secretary of war for information concerning the reports of the deportation of George T. Rice, editor of a Manila newspaper, to the United States, by General MacArthur. He read the press reports concerning Mr. Rice's case, saying that he did not wonder that he was defiant, knowing there was no law justifying his expulsion. Mr. Teller said he did not know whether Rice's paper had been suppressed, but he had been credibly informed that four newspapers had been suppressed in Luzon by the military authorities. Mr. Teller spoke of the proceeding as one of importance to all, for Mr. Rice was a citizen of the United States, and an offense against him was an offense against every other citizen of this country. The resolution was adopted.

The District of Columbia appropriation bill was taken up.

At 1 o'clock the ship subsidy bill was laid before the senate as unfinished business. Mr. Allison asked that the subsidy bill be laid aside temporarily. Mr. Jones (Ark.) objected to this request. Explaining his position, he said the effect of granting the request would be to continue the subsidy bill as the unfinished business, and he did not believe this should be, in view of the condition of the senate's business. Practically all the appropriation bills were yet to be considered, and he for one was willing to give them all the time, necessary. If the appropriation bills should fail, their failure would be due to keeping the subsidy bill pending, and he thought the country should understand the disposition to set aside everything else for that measure. He referred to the talk of an extra session of congress, saying that it was due to the evident determination to keep the subsidy bill to the front to the exclusion of all other measures. He considered other subjects more important and thought they should take precedence. He concluded with a positive objection to granting the request temporarily to lay the subsidy bill aside. Mr. Allison moved that consideration of the District of Columbia appropriation bill be proceeded with. There was no opposition to the motion and it prevailed without dissent and consideration of the District bill was continued.

In the House.

Chaplain Couden in his invocation prayed for the recovery of Congressman Bartlett of Georgia, who is ill with pneumonia. Without preliminary business the house went into committee of the whole and resumed consideration of the postoffice appropriation bill. Debate was interrupted to permit the house to act upon the senate amendment to the joint resolution for the appointment of a joint committee to arrange the program for the inauguration of the president and vice president. The senate struck out "and vice president," and the house agreed to the amendment. The speaker announced the appointment of Congressman Cannon (Ills.), Dalzell (Pa.) and McRae (Ark.), as members of the committee on behalf of the house.

Mr. Griggs (Ga.), a member of the postoffice commission, then took the floor with a set speech against the organization of various classes of government employees, with the object of increasing their salaries and in some cases creating a civil pension list. He argued that government employees were better paid than similar employees in private life and there was no justice in their constant and persistent demands for higher salaries.

President's Invitations.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Senator Jones and members of the Arkansas delegation in the house called on the president and presented the invitation of the Arkansas legislature to visit Little Rock en route to the Pacific coast in

May. The president said that if possible he would arrange his schedule to stop at Little Rock. Representative Loud of California also presented the president an invitation to stop at San Jose on his western tour, and it is thought the president will spend part of a day there.

DEATH AND DESTRUCTION.

Flames Consume Lives and Property. Victims of Hotel Fire.

Binghamton, N. Y., Feb. 5.—Two persons perished and three were fatally injured in a fire, which totally destroyed the Exposition hotel in this city. The dead: Harry Severson, 30, musician, burned beyond recognition; Sid Holland, 30, horseman, suffocated. The fatally injured are: Tom Cook, a racing man, burned about the head and body; John Regan, face, head and body frightfully burned and internally injured in jumping; Dora Darrow, back broken by jumping from a third story window. As the hotel was situated quite a distance from the center of the city the flames gained great headway before the arrival of firemen. There were about 25 persons in the building, most of whom escaped. A number leaped from the second and third story windows and a few of those were slightly hurt. The loss on building and effects will amount to $10,000.

Blaze in Bank Building.
Boston, Feb. 5.—Fire in the upper story of the First National Bank building, on State street, damaged property to the extent of $50,000. An adjoining building owned by the Globe Newspaper company was slightly damaged. The wife of the janitor of the bank and her 7-year-old child were removed from their rooms in the building in unconscious condition and taken to the hospital. It is said the woman will die.

Masonic Temple Destroyed.

Toledo, Feb. 5.—Flames destroyed the Masonic temple, causing a loss of $50,000 on building and a total loss of $150,000. The Scottish Rite, two Royal Arch chapters, two commanderies of Knights Templar, three blue lodges and the Shriners' met in the temple. All records, regalia and paraphernalia were destroyed.

Started by Tramps.

New Westminster, B. C., Feb. 5.—A fire, supposed to have been started by tramps, destroyed the residence and farm buildings of Guy Whiteside of Tynehead, and burned to death his two children, who were asleep when the flames broke out. A posse of farmers is scouring the country for the supposed incendiaries.

Army Appointments.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The president sent the following nominations to the senate: To be lieutenant general, Major General Nelson A. Miles. To be major generals—Brigadier General Samuel B. M. Young, United States army; Colonel Adna R. Chaffee, Eighth cavalry, United States army (major general United States army); Major General MacArthur, United States army (major general United States volunteers). Colonels to be brigadier generals—John C. Bates, Second Infantry, United States army (major general United States volunteers); Colonel Lloyd Wheaton, Seventh Infantry, United States army (major general United States volunteers); George W. Davis, Twenty-third Infantry (brigadier general United States volunteers); Theodore Schwan, assistant adjutant, United States army (brigadier general United States volunteers).

Brigadier general United States volunteers—John C. Bates, Second Infantry, United States army (major general United States volunteers); Samuel S. Sumner, Sixth cavalry, United States army; Leonard Wood, assistant surgeon United States army (major general United States volunteers); Robert H. Hall, Fourth Infantry, United States army (brigadier general United States volunteers); Robert P. Hughes, Inspector general, United States army (brigadier general United States volunteers); George V. Randall, Eighth Infantry, United States army (brigadier general United States volunteers). Also Major William A. Kobbe, Third artillery, United States army (brigadier general United States volunteers); Brigadier General Frederick D. Grant, United States volunteers; Captain J. Franklin Bell, Seventh Cavalry, United States army (brigadier general United States volunteers).

Transport on a Reef.

Havana, Feb. 5.—The United States transport McPherson ran about half her length upon a reef eight miles west of Matanzas in a fog while on her way from New York to Matanzas. Her bow is four feet out of water, but there is plenty of water astern of the vessel. All the passengers were transferred in the ship's boats and the freight is being unloaded. Six tugs have been sent from Havana to assist in pulling the McPherson off the reef. The transport is not leaking and as there is not much sea running there is no immediate danger unless a norther strikes in.

Secretary Gage Satisfied.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Secretary Gage has written a letter to the chairman of the house Louisiana Purchase exposition committee saying he had received satisfactory evidence that the exposition company had raised the $10,000,000 required as a prerequisite to the government aid of $5,000,000.

More Railway Consolidation.

New York, Feb. 5.—It was reported in Wall street that the Missouri Pacific Railway company had secured control of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railway. Officials of the Missouri Pacific declined to confirm or deny the report.

QUEENS HAVE TRIALS.

Vexations They Encounter When They Prepare to Marry.

WILHELMINA'S ANTE-NUPTIAL WOES.

Coincidences in the Marriages of England's Late Queen and the Queen of the Netherlands — Both True Love Matches.

The Hague, Feb. 5.—There are several coincidences of the crossing of the careers of the late Queen Victoria and Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands. Like Victoria, Wilhelmina, after ascending the throne, has waited three years and is marrying a German prince. Unless all signs fail this is also a genuine love match, and the wedding comes within three days of the sixty-first anniversary of the marriage of Victoria in the Chapel royal of St. James. There have been the same legislative controversies over the naturalization status and annuities to the prince consort here which arose at Westminster in the time of Melbourne and Wellington, and doubtless there will be similar heartburnings and annoyances over points of precedence and appropriate etiquette.

Duke Henrik of Mecklenburg-Schwerin is a German prince and the queen's Dutch subjects are intensely jealous of their independence and in dread of the absorption of their dykes and canals by Germany. They have shown evidences of suspicion and prejudice, and have not liked his swaggering military manners. The Dutch are thrifty and democratic, and they have not been favorably impressed with the prince, who is an enthusiastic sportsman. He has also been compelled to put up with legislative interference in his affairs since his betrothal, and has been subjected to much annoyance. Since the marriage bans were proclaimed there has been a better feeling toward the bridegroom.

The earlier functions of the marriage carnival were deferred in consequence of the death of Queen Victoria, and a number of royal guests, the Grand Duke of Luxembourg and other princes, will be kept away by reason of mourning. The street scenes with the rich effects of decorative color offer a striking contrast to the mourning draperies of purple and black in London. The holiday gayety is attuned to the hymn "Wilhelminus," with a refrain solemn enough to serve as a dirge for a king, but is converted into an undertone for the joyous spirit of a lighthearted populace. Receptions, a gala night at the theater, processions of working trades, societies and musical associations and other diversions follow the street carnival. The wedding ceremony will be performed Thursday in the white hall of the palace and will be repeated in the quaint church where the queen has attended Sunday services since her childhood.

FEAST OF OBADIAH.

Jefferson-Jackson-Lincoln League Big Banquet at Columbus.

Columbus, O., Feb. 5.—Preparations are rapidly being perfected for the Jefferson-Jackson-Lincoln banquet, to be held in this city at the Columbus auditorium the evening of Feb. 12. Many prominent people in Ohio and outside the state will attend. Hon. William J. Bryan will respond to "Jefferson," ex-Governor Algedo to "Jackson," ex-Senator Charles A. Towne to "Lincoln;" Senator-elect Carmack of Tennessee, "Jefferson and Lincoln;" Senator Pettigrew, "From Lincoln Down to Hanna;" Representative De Armand of Missouri, "Our Duty." The subject for the speech of George Fred Williams has not yet been announced. Dr. Howard Taylor of Chicago will read an original poem written especially for the occasion. It is expected that fully 2,000 persons will be seated at the banquet tables, while thousands will look on from the galleries.

Transport on a Reef.

Havana, Feb. 5.—The United States transport McPherson ran about half her length upon a reef eight miles west of Matanzas in a fog while on her way from New York to Matanzas. Her bow is four feet out of water, but there is plenty of water astern of the vessel. All the passengers were transferred in the ship's boats and the freight is being unloaded. Six tugs have been sent from Havana to assist in pulling the McPherson off the reef. The transport is not leaking and as there is not much sea running there is no immediate danger unless a norther strikes in.

Boers Threaten Lorenzo Marques.

London, Feb. 5.—It is reported in London that the Boers, commanded by Blake, are threatening Lorenzo Marques, and that Portugal has requested British assistance. It is further assured that a British squadron has been ordered to Lorenzo Marques. No official confirmation of the report is obtainable. The Blake referred to is probably John Y. Fillmore Blake, who was in command of a regiment of Irish and American rough riders in the service of the Transvaal. Blake, who is a West Pointer, first went to the Transvaal in 1894 or 1895.

LEGAL BOUT.

Lawyers Begin Finish Fight in Court. Other Fistic At Arms.

Cincinnati, Feb. 5.—The legal battle to determine whether or not the proposed fistic encounter between Jeffries and Ruhlin, set for Feb. 15 in the Saengerfest hall, is a prize fight obnoxious to the laws of Ohio, or a boxing contest permitted by the statutes, began before Judge Hollister of the common pleas court. All the corridors of the courthouse were crowded long before the hour set for the hearing, and it was with difficulty that the parties, attorneys and reporters could enter the court room through the dense crowd of disappointed persons unable to get into the room. There was much disappointment because Jeffries did not come to the hearing. Ruhlin was greeted by many in the court room before Judge Hollister appeared.

The action is for a permanent injunction restraining the principals, Jeffries and Ruhlin, from engaging in the contest proposed, and includes in its terms all who are in any way connected with promoting the enterprise, which the petition declares to be a public nuisance. The hearing is on the merits.

Outwitted the Governor.

Elgin, Feb. 5.—The Croake-Jackson prize fight, which was prohibited at Belvidere by Governor Yates, was pulled off at Gilberts, Kane county, Tuesday. A special train with 500 on board reached that village soon after midnight. A hall was immediately secured and the fight took place. There are no police save the village marshal, and there was no interference. The men fought 12 rounds. Croak did the heaviest work during the first seven rounds, but then showed weakness and was knocked out in the twelfth. He was counted out, but soon revived.

Knocked Off the Stage.

Galena, Kan., Feb. 5.—Eddy K. Morris of San Francisco knocked out young Wolcott of New York in the seventeenth round of what was to have been a 25-round contest. Both fought hard and Wolcott was the favorite up to the fourteenth round, when, after a lively mix-up and a breakaway, the New Yorker fell from the stage to the floor and injured his right arm.

Colored Pug's Deathblow.

Cincinnati, Feb. 5.—Frank Wilson, pugilist, colored, is in a semi-conscious condition, with chances of early death, the result of a knockout blow administered by John Kraemer in a boxing contest in the village of Reading. Hill's head struck the floor when he fell and he lay unconscious two hours.

Emperor William Starts Home.

London, Feb. 5.—Emperor William and King Edward arrived in London at 1:15 p. m. from Windsor and drove in an open carriage to Marlborough House, followed by their suites. Emperor William everywhere received the warmest welcome and exhibited every sign of pleasure. After luncheon the majesties left Marlborough House. The morning's ovation was repeated the whole way to Charing Cross railroad station, where Emperor William and the crown prince of Germany, Frederick William, took a train for Port Victoria, where the Hobenzollern awaited to take them home.

Consul Committed Suicide.

Washington, Feb. 5.—A cablegram from United States Minister Hunter at Guatemala City states that Sidney B. Everett, secretary of the United States legation there, committed suicide by shooting himself in the mouth. He had suffered a long illness, and it is understood that the act was committed during a temporary aberration of mind. Mr. Everett was appointed from Massachusetts as consul to Batavia in May, 1897, and was appointed to Guatemala City June 19. His parents are residents of Washington.

UP BRIGHT AND EARLY

Carrie and Her Hatchet Started Out Before Break of Day.

SHE BROKE SOME SLOT MACHINES.

Also Broke Mirrors and Bar Fixtures And Almost Got Her Head Broke. Struggle With a Colored Porter. Proclamation to Children.

Topeka, Feb. 5.—Mrs. Nation launched her crusade against saloons at 4:30 a. m. Accompanied by Mrs. J. P. White and Miss Madeline Southard, she attempted to enter the place at 830 Kansas avenue. The man on duty at that early hour was taken unawares, but managed to disarm Mrs. Nation and bolt the door before any of the party could enter. Mrs. Nation said her friends caught hold of her arms here and prevented her going in through the window. The next place visited was "The Senate," at 406 Kansas avenue. The women entered without resistance, but a colored man quickly seized Mrs. Nation and took her hatchet away. Somehow in the scuffle Mrs. Nation was struck on the right temple by the hatchet, but the blow did not disable her, and she at once seized the hatchet carried by Mrs. White. She turned over two large slot machines and smashed the glass in front of each. She soon made a wreck of the large refrigerator, and after that turned her attention to the liquor and fixtures behind the bar. A keg of beer came in the way of her hatchet and the contents completely drenched the skirts of Mrs. Nation. At this juncture the colored porter fired his revolver at the ceiling to frighten the crusaders and attract attention from the outside. Policeman Graham was attracted to the place by the noise and escorted Mrs. Nation to the police station. Here Mrs. Nation and her little band of held a short praise service and lectured those in charge at the time.

At the police station Mrs. Nation was booked as "saloon smasher." The others were released. Her case was continued until Thursday, without bond, the charge preferred being that of "instituting a riot." The case against Mrs. Nation for attempting to smash the Unique saloon, on East Sixth street, Monday was dismissed. The "Senate" saloon was one of the handsomest and most complete in its equipments of any in the city. It is fitted with a handsome cherry bar, and the great mirror which hung on the north side was valued at fully $500. Probably $1,500 worth of property and handsome fixtures was destroyed.

After Mrs. Nation was released she immediately began another round of the saloons. Mrs. Nation has issued the following proclamation to the school children of Topeka: "My Precious Little Children: I send you greeting and ask you to help me destroy that which is on the streets and protected by the police and city officials to destroy you, my darlings. I want every one of you little ones to grab up a rock and smash up the glass doors and windows of these hell-holes. You will do your duty and enroll your names on the pages of undying fame and place yourself by the side of God and humanity."

Yontsey sentenced For Life.
Georgetown, Ky., Feb. 5.—Henry Yontsey and Caleb Powers arrived here at noon in charge of Deputy Sheriff Herne. They were taken direct to the county jail. Mrs. Yontsey met her husband and accompanied him to the door of the jail. Yontsey was arraigned before Circuit Judge Cantrell at 2:40 p. m. and sentenced to life imprisonment. He said: "I am innocent. I have been convicted by base and infamous subornations of perjury." No appeal will be taken and the prisoner will be taken to state prison soon.

Wife Murderer Hanged.
Camden, N. J., Feb. 5.—Robert F. Hill was hanged in the county jail for the murder of his wife, Edith. The execution was without incident. Hill showed no evidence of fear and met death bravely. He was 28 years old and his wife was 23. Hill, who had been employed as a ticket chopper at Calhoun Point ferry, left his work June 9, and going to his home shot his wife on account of jealousy, and then attempted suicide. For a long time his life was despaired of.

Over the Wall.
Columbus, O., Feb. 5.—Otis Hurley, one of the famous demons in the penitentiary, and Charles French, a 15-year convict from Cleveland for robbery, escaped from the penitentiary by going over the wall between the female department and the main eastern wing of the prison. They were captured before they got across the lawn.

Will you, citizens of Maysville, write at least one letter to some friend in the country and ask him to get his samples ready for the tobacco fair? This will be a great mid-winter gathering of our tobacco growers and farmer friends. Let us make them feel welcome. Let all work for the success of the fair to be held on Washington's Birthday.

A DISINTERESTED WITNESS.

Dr. T. R. Hall, a Nebraskan physician, who boldly affirms that the medical profession of the West is not "made up of mental cripples," writes to the "Philadelphia Medical World":

"Mr. Editor: You state in the article I have referred to that any observant physician may be certain of his diagnosis in an epidemic of smallpox. I think so too. Now, I have given you the exact symptoms of these eight cases. What do you say? Dr. Towne, Secretary of the State Medical Board, has made several visits over the State, and pronounces everything that has a rash and is contagious, smallpox. But that does not help us out, as many of our best and most careful men say it is not smallpox. Professor Jones treated something similar in 1847. A similar affection was observed as early as 1812. After the Civil war a disease prevailed in some sections quite similar. One of my books classifies it as Lichen Americana. Now, Mr. Editor, I agree with you that the disease is now in this country. We are waiting for the scientific name you may give it. I may add that vaccination does not protect from this disease."

It is, however, incontrovertibly established that vaccination does protect against smallpox.

READERS who kept posted on the trial of the Goebel suspects last fall have not forgotten the antics of one Mr. Youtsey: how he carried on like a maniac at a critical stage of the case, and afterwards pretended to collapse and lay speechless for days. His mind was completely gone, it was claimed by sympathetic Republicans, and they held up their hands in horror that a man in that condition should be kept on trial. But Judge Cantrill had good reasons for believing Youtsey was shamming, and that there was "method in his madness," so the trial went on and Youtsey was given a life sentence. It was given out after the verdict that his lawyers would insist that he be tried on a writ of lunacy and a motion to that effect was entered. At Georgetown Monday Judge James F. Askew, one of the attorneys for the defendant, withdrew the motion made at the last term of court for an arrest of judgment on the ground that the facts stated in the indictment did not constitute a public offense, and that the mental condition of Youtsey at the time of his trial last summer be inquired into. So even his own attorneys believe now that he is not crazy, and he was no more crazy last fall than he is now. Is there longer any doubt of his guilt?

FREE LIBRARIES—A STRONG PLEA.

The celebrated English writer and philanthropist, Sir Walter Besant, contributes the following eulogy on free libraries to the February number of "The Century":

"What was the name of the benefactor to humanity who first invented, or discovered, the free library? Who was the philanthropist who first advocated the free library? I do not know. But when one realizes what the free library means, one is carried away by admiration and gratitude. By means of the free library we actually give to any person, however poor, we place in his hands as free gift, the whole of the literature of the world. If he were a millionaire he could not possibly acquire a greater command than the poorest lad enjoys who lives near a good free library. Since none but good and worthy literature should be admitted to a free library, the readers cannot use its treasures without forming, purifying and elevating their taste in literature. New taste in literature leads naturally to corresponding taste as regards the major and minor virtues and their opposites. I look for the time, not far distant, when the demand for books by the mass of the public will be in itself a selection of the best and purest; when it will be impossible to reproach the people, as is done to-day, with buying the ephemeral trash that is offered at a penny, and neglect the scholars and the poets and the wise ones of ancient days. The free library is doing for the working people, what the circulating library cannot do for its readers who go in broad cloth and in silk. In the time to come, in the near future, it will be the latter who read the rubbish, and the former who will create the demand for the better literature."

EVEN HANNA

Should Blush at the Imprudent Intentions of the Ship Subsidy Scheme.

[New York World.]

The theory of all American legislation is that it is framed to promote "the greatest good of the greatest number," and never to benefit the few at the expense of the many. This wholesome theory has been utterly ignored by the framers of the ship subsidy bill, to pass which a last desperate effort is now to be made.

A careful analysis of the bill for the purpose of showing exactly how many pockets are to be benefited by it has just been sent out by its opponents in Congress. The bare facts disclosed by this analysis ought to make any Senator, even Mr. Hanna, blush to vote for it.

Of the whole list of ships that are entitled to the highest subsidy rate fixed by the bill nine-tenths are owned by four companies, to-wit, the International Navigation Company, the New York and Cuba Mail Company, the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and the American Mail Steamship Company.

Nine-tenths of the smaller subsidy rates that would be paid on foreign-built steamers would also go to four concerns only, and these four are really only two operating under different names—namely, the Standard Oil trust and the Pennsylvania railroad.

Under the clauses which provide bounties for ships now building for foreign trade in American shipyards and half bounties for ships building abroad for American owners it appears further that less than a dozen ship owners and only four ship builders would be beneficiaries.

This, then, is what the ship subsidy bill would do, summed in a sentence: It would take from the pockets of 70,000 people $9,000,000 a year to put it into the pockets of less than two dozen private business concerns all told.

BOOST FOR PUGH.

Kentucky Delegation in Congress Endorse Him for District Judge—Expect Deboe's Support.

A special from Washington City says: "The situation in the race for the new Kentucky Federal Judgeship took a turn Monday, and now Representative Samuel J. Pugh, of the Ninth district, whose term will expire on March 4, is a leading candidate. The entire Kentucky delegation endorsed his candidacy, and while the President may see fit to disregard this action, it is thought that Pugh's stock has gone upward by many points.

"Mr. Pugh now has about all the endorsements on paper possible for him to obtain and with the concurrence of the House in the Senate amendments to the Kentucky Judicial bill Mr. Pugh and his friends will keep a well-beaten path to the White House. Senator Deboe has not yet expressed his choice for the Judgeship, but the friends of Mr. Pugh say that he will at the proper time jump in the Pugh band wagon.

"It is claimed that Senator Deboe has never yet failed to endorse Mr. Pugh or any of Mr. Pugh's friends for any position desired and that the junior Senator from Kentucky will be brought into line when the time comes. The Kentucky Judicial bill does not go into effect until the first day of July. The fight over the office, however, starts this week and from the moment the President signs the bill he will have his hands full. The President will bear a good deal of the several Republican factions in Kentucky in the next few weeks, and the Democrats may get not a little fun and benefit out of it."

AFTER FRANCHISE TAXES.

United Effort to Compel Corporations to Pay to Counties as Well as to the State.

VERSAILLES, KY., Feb. 5th.—F. P. O'Donnell, County Attorney of Mason County, and Thos. W. Thomas, County Attorney of Warren County, arrived this morning to assist County Attorney Davis, of Woodford, in preparing the arguments of the railroad franchise tax case, which the County Attorneys are to make before the State Board of Valuation in Frankfort Thursday.

It involves the payment of a franchise tax by the railroad companies to each of the 119 counties in Kentucky as well as to the State.

"THE ROYAL BOX."

Sale of Seats Points to a Large Attendance at the Opera House To-Night.

No Frenchman has been so widely read on this side of the Atlantic as Alexander Dumas. No English actor had the scholarly ability of the late Charles Coghlan. No English actor has ever been so idolized in London as was Edmund Kean. Dumas wrote the original play from which was adapted "The Royal Box," which is to be given at the opera house here to-night.

Charles Coghlan made the adaptation and the central character of the story Edmund Kean, although in the English version another name has been given him. To the above comparisons it might be added that none of our younger actors of to-day are so well fitted to the leading role as Andrew Robson, who will appear in it here. According to the critics he has many advantages over Coghlan himself. He has youth, more fire, a better physique and far greater personal magnetism. He has not contented himself with these only, however, as he has surrounded himself with a strong company and a scenic environment of great beauty and cost.

In Memoriam.

On Jan. 12, after an illness of three weeks, little Ella Mae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. S. Auburn, died at their home near Fern Leaf, of scarlet fever. The Juvenile Missionary Society express their sympathy to the bereaved parents, brother and sister, and to Ella Mae's memory dedicate these lines of love:

When all were happy and gay,
Our home was saddened with grief;
And loving parents by the bedside of dear little
Ella Mae,
Prayed see might escape the last sweet sleep.
